Upcoming Events

MARCH 17-18: AGING RE-IMAGINED SYMPOSIUM.

This comprehensive and interdisciplinary symposium addresses the topic of aging in our society.

The symposium will take place on our campus and will bring faculty, staff, students, and members of the Winston-Salem community together to discuss the topic of aging from many perspectives. Leading scholars, artists, medical professionals and researchers whose work focuses on this vital, intersectional topic will be here to share their insight on four key ideas that inform how we age, and how we think and feel about aging: Mobility, Mind (including memory), Mortality, and Meaning.

Speakers:

Louise Aronson, MD, MFA, Professor, Geriatrics, & Chief, Geriatrics Education, University of California-San Francisco.

Frank Johns, JD, LL.M., Principal at Booth Harrington & Johns Attorneys at Law, specializes in Elder Law

Liz Lerman, Choreographer and founder of Liz Lerman Dance Exchange.

S. Jay Olshansky, PhD, Professor, School of Public Health, University of Illinois at Chicago.

Michael Rossato-Bennett, Director/Producer

Center News

The Bioethics Graduate Program (at Wake Forest University) is currently accepting applications for the 2016-2017 academic year.

The Program provides an educational opportunity in bioethics for current and future professionals, including health care providers, researchers in biomedicine and the life sciences, lawyers, and professionals in health and research administration, and the biotechnology industry. The program is attractive to working professionals as well as students in pre-health, pre-law, and humanities programs who will continue onto professional schools and/or doctoral programs. The students in the Bioethics program bring a diversity of academic, employment, and life experiences to the classroom. The program faculty is nationally recognized in the field of bioethics.

The small class sizes and versatile curricular options enable students to tailor the program to their individual interests. The program emphasizes face-to-face interaction, promotes scholarly and interpersonal communicative capabilities, and fosters close relationships among students, faculty and alumni.

The Graduate Program offers a Master of Arts degree and three Graduate Certificate options, as well as several joint degree options. The program is flexible for both full and part-time study. For more information, including program philosophy, course and faculty listings, and application procedures, please contact Vicky Zickmund, (336-716-1499) as well as visit the website:
