BEYOND OUR BEGINNINGS:
50 YEARS OF BIOETHICS

FRIDAY, APRIL 5, 2019 – REGISTER NOW

This is a one-day conference surveying the past, present, and future of bioethics scholarship, practice, and policy. The conference, organized by the Wake Forest University Center for Bioethics, Health, & Society, features senior scholars whose work has shaped the field.

The program includes philosophers, historians, social scientists, and lawyers, all of whom have been instrumental in creating and sustaining the field of bioethics. They will reflect on where we have been and where we should be going.

Location: Graylyn International Conference Center in Winston-Salem, NC. Conference schedule & registration is here: <http://bioethics.wfu.edu/conference-area/>.

Registration is free, but space is limited.

Graduate Program in Bioethics

ANNOUNCEMENT

SUMMER ADMISSION WITH ONLINE COURSES

Interest in Wake Forest University's Bioethics Graduate Program educational offerings continues to grow beyond our immediate geography. Therefore, the graduate program is now offering summer admission to its certificate options (Graduate Certificate in Bioethics, Graduate Certificate in Biomedical Research Ethics, and Graduate Certificate in Clinical Bioethics).

The summer admission is geared to working professionals located further than two hours from Winston Salem. Other circumstances (such as an atypical work schedule) may be considered. Students admitted during the summer term will take one or two courses during the summer via an online format. Four courses can be completed over two summers.

Working professionals interested in one of the graduate certificates who live within two hours of Winston-Salem should continue to apply for the fall or spring semester with evening/once a week on campus courses.

For more information about Graduate Certificate options, click : (<http://bioethics.wfu.edu/academic/graduate-programs/graduate-certificates/>) and/or contact Vicky Zickmund (zickmuvl@wfu.edu)

Graduate Program in Bioethics

The Bioethics Graduate Program at Wake Forest University is accepting applications for Summer 2019 (certificate/online course only) and Fall 2019 and Spring 2020 admission.

The Program provides an educational opportunity in bioethics for current and future professionals, including health care providers, researchers in biomedicine and the life sciences, lawyers, and professionals in health and research administration and the biotechnology industry.

The program is attractive to working professionals as well as students in pre-health, pre-law, and humanities programs who will continue onto professional schools and/or doctoral programs. The students in the Bioethics program bring a diversity of academic, employment, and life experiences to the classroom. The program faculty is nationally recognized in the field of bioethics.

The small class sizes and versatile curricular options enable students to tailor the program to their individual interests. The program emphasizes face-to face interaction, promotes scholarly and interpersonal communicative capabilities, and fosters close relationships among students, faculty and alumni.

The Graduate Program offers a Master of Arts degree and three Graduate Certificate options, as well as several joint degree options. The program is flexible for both full and part-time study.

For more information, including program philosophy, course and faculty listings, and application procedures, please contact Vicky Zickmund, (336-716-1499) as well as visit the website: <http://bioethics.wfu.edu/academic/graduate-programs>
