Potential conflicts of interest occur often, especially in an academic medical center full of intelligent, highly motivated scientists, clinicians and business executives. Conflicts of interest can create the appearance of unethical or biased results and transactions if they are not mitigated. This presentation will provide definitions and common examples of the various conflicts of interest that can arise in research, clinical care, education, and procurement. Management or mitigation of conflicts of interest will be discussed, with some case study examples for audience participation.

Graduate Program in Bioethics

ANNOUNCEMENT

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE SUMMER ADMISSION WITH ONLINE COURSES

Interest in Wake Forest University's Bioethics Graduate Program educational offerings continues to grow beyond our immediate geography. Therefore, the graduate program is now offering summer admission to its certificate options (Graduate Certificate in Bioethics, Graduate Certificate in Biomedical Research Ethics, and Graduate Certificate in Clinical Bioethics).

The Graduate Certificate is a freestanding program of graduate study in which students may take the same courses as students in the Master of Arts in Bioethics graduate program. It is offered to increase the flexibility and attractiveness of graduate study in bioethics, particularly to working professionals who wish to add bioethics knowledge to their professional practice. Summer admission is geared toward individuals interested in taking summer online courses to meet some or all of the graduate certificate requirements.

Graduate Program in Bioethics

The Bioethics Graduate Program at Wake Forest University is accepting applications for Summer 2020 (certificate/online courses), Fall 2020 and Spring 2021 admission.

The Program provides an educational opportunity in bioethics for current and future professionals, including health care providers, researchers in biomedicine and the life sciences, lawyers, and professionals in health and research administration and the biotechnology industry.

The program is attractive to working professionals as well as students in pre-health, pre-law, and humanities programs who will continue onto professional schools and/or doctoral programs. The students in the Bioethics program bring a diversity of academic, employment, and life experiences to the classroom. The program faculty is nationally recognized in the field of bioethics.

The small class sizes and versatile curricular options enable students to tailor the program to their individual interests. The program emphasizes face-to-face interaction, promotes scholarly and interpersonal communicative capabilities, and fosters close relationships among students, faculty and alumni.

The Graduate Program offers a Master of Arts degree and three Graduate Certificate options, as well as several joint degree options. The program is flexible for both full and part-time study.
